THE PRAIRIE-GOD'S GARDEN.

"The most beautiful of all the great natural objects is one of our great Western prairies in blossom. It is a sea of flowers, and so entrancing as to duzzle the senses. Well may it be called God's GARDEN."-NOTES OF A TRAVEL-

God formed the world for beauty, And hung it in the air, Then clothed it in its leveliness, And called it "good" and fair. His are the burnished heavens, With all their orbs of light; He gave the stars the lustre That they shed upon the night.

He made the mighty ocean, Its grandeur and its grace, And gave its mystic splendor, As a mirror for his face. No nobler emblem hath He, None greater, none more free, No symbol half so touching, As the bounding, mighty sea.

The mountains in sublimity, As monuments shall stand, To teach us wandering mortals, The workship of his hand. Upon their mighty hillsides, Around their summits high, His name is writ in glory, In power and majesty.

But, oh! the blooming prairie, Here are God's floral bowers: Of all that he hath made on earth, The loveliest are the flowers. This is the Almighty's garden, And the mountains, stars and sea, Are nought compared in beauty With God's garden prairie free.

Brief and beautiful is the following bijon of a poem from the September number of Graham's Magazine:

DUTY.

BY H. ELLISON. Would every man but of his duty do A tithe, this earth were as a paradise! Then would the victory be for the wise, The good and virtuous, and not unto The sword and spear, the brute-strong, who undo Their fellow men, and rend in twain the ties Which bind all hearts to holy ministries:

Those ministries which, like pure ore, run through The common bosom in this week-day life, But we do lend ourselves to brutish strife, Blind tools in a blind hand: we violate Truth, Justice, Mercy, and ourselves deprive Of their high blessings—learning, but too late,

That on all sin, self-punishment must wait. Alliscallaucous.

WASHINGTON'S Farewell to his Army, DECEMBER 4, 1783.

The Revolution was over. The eight years' conflict had ceased, and warriors were now to separate forever, turning their weapons into ploughshares and their camps into workshops. The spectacle, though a sublime and glorious one, was yet attended with sorrowful feelings -for alas! in the remains of that gallant army of patriot soldiers, now about stalked poverty, want and disease-the ountry had not the means to be grateful.

The details of the condition of many of the officers and soldiers at that period, actording to history and oral tradition, were melancholy in the extreme. Possessing no means of patrimonial inheri-stood round him, whose uplifted hands to tance to fall back upon-thrown out of cover their brows told that the tear which dered to be distributed among the Greneven the perilous support of the soldier, they in vain attempted to conceal, beat the commencement of winter, and spoke the anguish they could not hide. hardly fit for any other duty than that of the camp—their situation can be as well ington called for a glass of wine. The closing of this "military scene," I am about to relate.

Satisfied that its vengeance was com plete, the camel was returning to its corner, when the driver sat up and spoke. At the sound of his voice, and perceiving the mistake it had made, the animal was so mortified at the failure and discovery of its scheme, that it dashed its head against the wall, and died on the spot.-Such was the story as related by the dragoman, and the owner of the mill vouched for its authenticity.—Capt. The address of the Hon. W. H. Haywood, of N. C., who resigned his sent in the U. S. Senate previous to the passage of the new Tariff bill, is published in the National Intelligencer. The address is very lengthy but frank and forcible. His objections to the Tariff of 1846 are, that it will diminish the revenue when the country is involved in an expensive war, and therefore needs a full treasury; that, the new act should have operated gradually, and not immediately; that, the sub-treasury and the warehouse bill operating together with the new tariff, will produce changes too sudden and violent; that, it discriminates against, and not in favor of domestic industry; that, it substitutes ad valorem for specific duwas severely beaten by its driver, who, ties, contrary to the policy of all preceperceiving that the camel had treasured ding administrations, of all other governup the injury, and was only waiting a ments, and thus encourages frauds upon

Never let us wonder at any thing we are born to; for man has no reason to complain, where we are all in the same condition. He that escapes might have suffered, and it is but equal to submit to the laws of mortality. We must undergo the colds of winter, the heats of summer, the distemper of the air, and the diseases of the body. A wild beast may meet us in one place, and a man more brutal in another. It is the part of a great mind to be temperate in prosperity, and resolute in adversity; to despise what the vulgar admire, and to prefer, mediocrity to excess. We are subject to ill accidents, unkind seasons, distempers and diseases, and why may we not reckon the actions of base, designing men, among those accidents? He who is well tempered, will stand all the changing shocks of life without perturbation. It is only man's inward fear that makes us curious to know what is going on Evil thoughts are worse enemies than ions and tigers, for we can keep out of the way of wild beasts, but bad thoughts win their way every where. The cup that is full will hold no more; keep your heads and hearts full of good thoughts, that bad thoughts may find no room to enter.

When a woman seeks to guide her husband, it should not be like one who breaks a horse to his own purpose, using bit and spur, now checking and now goading his career; but like the mariner who steers the ship, directs it by a single touch, while none can see the power that rules its motion.

from an old friend, Rev. LEANDER KER, Chaplain in the U. S. Army, who has been for several years stationed at Fort Leavenworth on the Missouri River. Believing that the contents we give the letter below.

FORT LEAVENWORTH, Aug. 20, 1846. Dear Friend :- Fort Leavenworth for the last two months, has been a point of no small attraction and importance, it being the point of departure of the "Army of the West" to Santa Re and California lor the latter place is the "U

Thule? of this expedition. More than three thousand men have already left this post since the 5th of June, all of them volunteers, with the exception of about 400 of the 1st Regiment of does not contain better troops. But the Volunteers, numbering near 3,000, are is now and inexperienced as the Militia of Pennsylvania; and this is as true of the officers as of the men. All these volunteers are mounted, with the exception of tivo companies of foot, which left here on the 30th June, and 500 Mormons, under command of Col. Allen of the U.S. Army, a very active and efficient officer .-These Mormons were encamped here two weeks, and whatever their character and conduct thave been olsewhere, trut compels us to declare that, in point of good-conduct while here, they were far superior to the other volunteers, who, with the exception of three companies from St. Louis, one composed entirely of Germans, and a foot company from Jefferson City-were very noisy and disorderly. The 1st Regiment of Volunteers that left here, consisted of eleven companies of mounted men, each over 100 strong, under the command of Gol. Donaphoga lawyer from Missouri All these companies elected their Colonel Lieutenant Colonel and Major, after they had assembled here and were mustered o service. The 2d Regiment. about leaving, is under command of Col Price, a member of Congress from Wis souri. It consists of ten companies of about 90 strong each. Then there is separate Battalion of four mounted compames, under command of Lieut. Col.

-and the Volunteering system is only another modification of the same—is greater farce in war than it is in peace pecause of the serious interests, involved in the former: What could be expected from thousands of raw troops, officers and men equally raw, in active warfare with disciplined troops in an open field Disorder, panic, and defeat inevitable.-Wehen-men-will-not-obey-their-officer farther than they please, and when offi cers know not how to command, and are not disposed to enforce discipline and obedience, nothing but disorder and disgrace

the truth is, that the whole Militia system

It was only yesterday, in passing by group of volunteers sitting on their horses at the suttler's store-door, calling for the last glass of beer, that one of their officers, after trying in vain to get them under way, finally started for his own horse, calling on his gentlemen, (the ordinary manner of addressing their men assumed by volunteer officers,) to come on ... Well jist go ahead, 'says one of these gentlemen, "and we'll be after you when ready." To us in the Army, who are accustomed to see orders every where obeyed with the utmost alacrity and promptitude; such proceeding, such a perfect farce in military affairs; is in the highest degree ludicrous and contemptible. When the First Regiment were leav ing, one of the officers, high in command, after coaxing the gentlemen a long time to use more dispatch and hurry along, used some sharp and threatening language, when one of the "Boys" flared up, and told him to go to him at the same time, and telling him, would be in the ranks.'

The Volunteers were sorely disappointed when they arrived here. Many of them were young men of the first families in Missouri, from which all the vot unters at this post came-young men too, who had plenty of slaves at home to wait upon them always. When they came here, they had not only to attend to their own horses and cook their own food, but were commanded to work in loading wagons, &c. and breaking wild mules for the wagons. Just think of setting young gentlemen at such work, especially breaking mules-a harder and more disagreeable work than any thing you can conceive of. Had these orders came from their own officers little if any thing would have been done, but they were the duties assigned them by the officers of the garrison, and had to be they were speedily marched to the guardhouse, and a few examples were sufficient. It was astonishing to see with what cheerfulness young men, who neverwhat cheerfulness young men, who never fer peace." The same paper adds: expect to subsist by foraging. FROM THE FAR WEST.

We received, a few days since, a letter from an old friend, Rev. LEANDER KER, a. Chaplain in the U. S. Army, who has been for several years stationed at Fort Leavenworth on we give the letter below.

FORT LEAVENWORTH, Aug. 20, 1846.

Dear Friend: -- Fort Leavenworth, for the last two months, has been a point of no small attraction and importance, it; being the point of departure of the "Army !

tion of about 400 of the 1st Regiment of U. S. Dragoons, than whom our service! Volunteers, numbering near 3,000, are as raw and inexperienced as the Militia of Pennsylvania, and this is as true of the officers as of the men. All these volunteers are mounted, with the exception of two companies of foot, which left here on the 30th June, and 500 Mormons, under command of Col. Allen of the U.S. Army, a very active and efficient officer .-These Mormons were encamped here two weeks, and whatever their character and conduct have been elsewhere, truth compels us to declare that, in point of good conduct while here, they were far superior to the other volunteers, who, with the exception of three companies from St. Louis, one composed entirely of Germans, and a foot company from Jefferson City-were very noisy and disorderly. The 1st Regiment of Volunteers that left here, consisted of eleven companies of mounted men, each over 100 strong, under the command of Col. Donaphon, a lawyer from Missouri. Al these companies elected their Colonel, Lieutenant Colonel, and Major, after they had assembled here and were mustered into 'service. The 2d Regiment, now about leaving, is under command of Col. Price, a member of Congress from Missouri. It consists of ten companies of about 90 strong each. Then there is a separate Battalion of four mounted companies, under command of Lieut. Col. Wellack. These mounted men are variously armed, the greater number with the rifle and sabre, and some with muskets alone. They were all armed and equipped after they came here, and were drilled by the U. S. officers, as their own officers were for the most part as green as the men in all military matters. But the truth is, that the whole Militia system -and the Volunteering system is only another modification of the same-is a greater farce in war than it is in peace, because of the serious interests involved in the former. What could be expected from thousands of raw troops, officers and men equally raw, in active warfare with disciplined troops in an open field? Disorder, panic, and defeat inevitable .-When mon will not obey their officers farther than they please, and when officers know not how to command, and are not disposed to enforce discipline and obedience, nothing but disorder and disgrace can result. It was only yesterday, in passing by a group of volunteers sitting on their horses at the suttler's store-door, calling for the last glass of beer, that one of their officers, after trying in vain to get them under way, finally started for his own horse, calling on his gentlemen, (the or dinary manner of addressing their men assumed by volunteer officers,) to come on. "Well jist go ahead," says one of these gentlemen, "and we'll be after you when ready."

To us in the Army, who are accustomed to see orders every where obeyed with the utmost alacrity and promptitude, such proceeding, such a perfect farce in military affairs, is in the highest degree ludicrous and contemptible.

When the First Regiment were leaving, one of the officers, high in command, after coaxing the gentlemen a long time to use more dispatch and hurry along, wused some sharp and threatening language, when one of the "Boys" flared up, and told him to go to h-l, d-g him at the same time, and telling him, "we elected you, and but for us you would be in the ranks."

The Volunteers were sorely disappointed when they arrived here. Many of them were young men of the first families in Missouri, from which all the volunters at this post came-young men too, who had plenty of slaves at home to wait upon them always. When they came here, they had not only to attend to their own horses and cook their own food, but were commanded to work in loading wagons, &c. and breaking wild mules for the wagons. Just think of setting young gentlemen at such work especially breaking mules-a harder and more disagreeable work than any thing you can conceive of. Had these orders came from their own officers little if any thing would have been done, but they were the duties assigned them by the officers of the garrison, and had to be obeyed. True, some did refuse, but they were speedily marched to the guardhouse, and a few examples were sufficient. It was astonishing to see with what cheerfulness young men, who never then I am with them; but I would worked an hour in their lives, would go the peace." The same paper adds: to it, and work like grubbers; and as a that Monterey, in California, had been ed to pay well for all he takes to subsist grumbled the most about the work and the provisions, were those who labored

Before his promotion, which is a recent thing, he was Colonel of the 1st Regiment of Dragoons, of which this post is the headquarters. Devoted to the service of his country, he combines the finest perceptions of utility and fitness with the most untiring industry and energy; and his moral character and gentlemanly bearing are every way equal to his military skill and wisdom. I believe that the war is virtually at an end, and that there will be no more fighting-our gallant little army, of which I am proud, and what American patriot is not? finished the war at Palo Alto and Resaca de la Palma. And I furthermore believe, that if our Government were disposed to subdue all Mexico, and attach her wandering stars to the brilliant constellation that adorus our flug, it could be done with the force now in Mexico and on the way thither. As for the rectitude of the war, I leave that to wrangling politicians and statesmenas soldiers, we have nothing to do with these questions, but obey orders, fight, preach, and pray for our country, and her flag and success. One thing, however, is certain, that, whether the measure is just or unjust, the Anglo-Ameri-

Gomez Farias, formerly the mortal enemy of Santa Anna, had declared in his favor, and had sent his two sons to Vera Cruz to meet the triumphant Dictator and escort him to the capital.

The Mexican Congress was to be convened in the beginning of December .-All the old Ministry had resigned.

An express had reached the British Consulate at Vera Cruz with the news has the command of the force here, of the annexation of California to the which consists of a battalion of regulars, United States. Some suppose that this means that Commodore SLOAT had taken possession of the country."

In addition to what is stated above, the Picayune informs us that before Santa Ana lest Havanna he took letters from Gen. Assembly-Isaac E. Wierman. Commissioner-Jonathan Raymond. Director-Abraham Spangler. Auditor-Joseph Bittinger.

The Convention also, as we think with a vant of courtesy, if we are allowed to give an ppinion in matters which do not properly concern us, dropped the present Representative in Congress, Mr. M'CLEAN, and placed in nomination Joel B. Danneu, Esq. as their candidate for that office. The vote stood in Convention -Danner 19, M'Clean 17. Mr. M'CLEAN, it appears, by his vote in protection of Pennsylvama interests, in company with all his colleagues in Congress, Whig and Democratic, save one. given in their allegiance to Mr. Polk, his Free The Matamoras "Flag" says that Trade Secretary, and the Tariff of '46. Our Candidate.

The Whigs of York county are to have their meeting on the 15th, to appoint Conferees to settle a candidate for Congress. We shall therefore not know until some time next week, who will be our candidate.

Hot Weather.

We have had another spell of scoreling weather -the mercury for the last eight successive days ranging between 80 and 90. On Saturday it rose to 87—and yesterday to 88.

Copper Mine.

We mentioned some time since, that a Copper have stopped a week ago. Mine had been discovered on the farm of Mr. Watson, in Liberty township, and that a compaulars and irregulars, be there, and then my from Pittsburg had sunk shafts with a view of ascertaining its quantity and quality. Several specimens from the mine were exhibited to us last week, which appear to be very rich, so far as we are able, from our limited knowledge in such matters, to judge. We wish the company success in their undertaking.

We learn that, during the terrible thunderstorm on Saturday night week, the house of Capt. WM. Thompson, in Straban township, was struck by lightning-but the damage done was ture of the last steamer. inconsiderable. Nearly all of Capt. Thompson's family were slightly shocked.

During the same storm, the barn of Mr. John Stouffer, near Mountpleasant. Frederick county, was struck by lightning. The barn, wagonshed and threshing machine, together with a number of building logs, and several hundred bushels of wheat, were destroyed.

The barn of Mr. John Rife, in Letterkenny township, Franklin county, was also struck during the same storm, and burned down, together with his crop of grain, a number of sheep, &c. &c.

A house in the town of Huntingdon was struck during the same storm, and some of the inmates slightly injured. The fluid passed down the chimney. This storm must have passed over a very large extent of country.

III We regiet to hear that a great deal of sickness prevails in the Conowago settlement near Hanover. The disease is principally ague and fever, though many are down with other varieties of disease incident to the season.

The Chambersburg Repository says that there is a much more than usual amount of sickness prevailing in that borough, mostly fevers, of a bilious and intermittent character.

ITMr. LITTLE, of the East Berlin Standard. offers his establishment for sale. He has soon become sated with the joys of an editorial life.

III During several days of last week, the wea ther was intensely hot at Philadelphia and Baltimore, the mercury running up as high as 90 degrees. At Baltimore on Wednesday, a number of hands in the ship yards were obliged to knock off from work, being unable to stand the intense heat of the sun.

An Casis in the Desert.

The Locofocos of Armstrong, Butler, Clearfield and Indiana counties have nominated the Hon. Findler Parrenson as their candidate for Congress. At the same time they resolve, that they are opposed to the repeal of the Tariff of 1842, that they disapprove of the course of the General Administration in relation to that had at one point since the Revolution. There Tariff, that George M. Dallas has forfeited all claims to further patronage from Pennsylvania, that the course of our Senators and Representatives, in supporting the Tariff of 1842, entitles them to our grateful thanks, and that hereafter the 15th inst. they will not support any man for President, Congress, or any other Representative office, who is not a protective Tariff man in deed as well as at that place already, and more were gathering

That's the way for Pennsylvanians to talk-How different from our Locofocos, who have thrown overboard a respectable Representative, because he chose to go counter to the Administration, when that Administration was sacrificing the interests of his native State, and when in doing so he was but carrying out the nearly unanimous instructions of a Democratic Legislature! The people are looking at these things —and they cannot much longer be blinded by the dust of locofoco leaders.

The Issue.

So far as we can gather, says the U. S. Gazettte, the word has gone forth from Washingtou, that the issue to be offered at the coming election in the State, is the Tariff of 1846 .-The Polk Party are to be ordered up, and to be required to toe the mark on Mr. M'Kay's bill. It is a bold measure, but it looks as if the Locos would try it, notwithstanding their former pretensions to a protective policy. The language on Wednesday last, which resulted in the death used by some of the small Locofoco papers of Major Thomas M'Gough, and a Mr. Biglow, against protection, is absolutely coarse.

RF The following extract of a letter shows the painful operation of the Tariff of 1846, and we fear that the evil will be extensive :

"Portsville. (Pa.) Aug. 24, 1846. "Bart and Hellner have both stopped operations entirely, and this has thrown five hundred and forty hands out of employ. All the operatives on Silver Creek have stopped—some others

California.

In another part of our paper is given an account of the rumored capture and annexation of California to the U. States. A letter recently received from that quarter says that the Califormias were not taken by the squadron under Com. that Commodore Sloat took possession of Monterey, in Culifornia, on the 6th of July, and issued his proclamation to the inhabitants of California, calling on them to remain peaceful, assuring them that he did not come as their enemy, but to make them part and parcel of the great Federal Union of the United States! He also extended the Revenue Laws of the United States over California! Thus we go, adding territory to territory. Several other towns were also taken possession of.

Retrocession of Alexandria. On Tuesday and Wednesday of last week, the voting of the citizens of Alexandria and neighboring country took place, in conformity with the act of Congress, to determine whether they should go back to the State of Virginia, or remain in the District. The result of the vote was-For Retrocession to Virginia, 763; against Retrocession, 222-majority 541. When the vote was announced, the city rung with shouts, cheers, and songs, and firing of cannon; and the Alexandrians appear to be quite intoxicated with their victory.

The Ocean Race. The steamer Cambria arrived out in ten days and sixteen hours; and the Great Britain in thirteen days and ten hours. The latter was detained 18 hours at sea, in repairing her driving chains.

Iowa a State.

The State Constitution has been adopted by a majority of 600, and Iowa is now a State-and will probably be admitted at the next session of Congress.

There is now assembled on the Rio Grande the largest force which the United States have are 21 regiments of volunteers, besides the regulars. The head quarters are at Camargo, and the troops are marching up as fast as possible. The general head-quarters were to be moved on

The news from Monterey is, that the Mexicans have 12000 volunteers and regulars collected in. It is thought the Mexicans will make a bold stand there, and offer every resistance to Gen. Taylor in their power.

IJA letter from Camargo says that the heat there is most intense-that the atmosphere, the earth, and the limestone walls of Camargo seemed to be on fire. The writer says-"We have not a single thermometer to measure the heat with, but nothing is lost by the deficiency, as I am satisfied that no instrument of the kind has ever been manufactured of sufficient length to reach the height of the temperature at this place."

Vermont.

The election took place in Vermont last week -and so far as heard from, looks well for the Whig cause. The Whig candidate for Governor (Eaton) runs better than Slade did last year, and there is one member already gained.

Railroad Accident.

An accident occurred on the Portage Railroad, and injury to several others. One young lady had her leg broken, and another lost several fingers. All the persons hurt were riding, in violation of orders, on the tender of the locomotive. The accident was caused by the breaking of the crank of the locomotive, which stopped suddenly, causing a collision between the tender and the seavy truck next to it.

The reception of SANTA ANA at Vera Cruz, where he landed on the 16th of August, is said to have been very enthusiastic. What a versatile people those Mexicans are!

Real Grit.

A Cincinnati paper says that one of the Ohio colunteers on the Rio Grande, familiarly known as Mike," while on post, whipped two Lieutenints; one of them of his own company. They attempted to pass his post as sentinel, contrary to orders; and Mike, instead of using his gun, threw it down, and took his fists to them. The company threatened to thrash Mike for the insuit to his officer; he told the company, when n line, that if they intended to carry out the threat, that he could whip from the highest officer down to the lowest private. Nine of the company went out to fight, and Mike kept his word and thrashed them all, one by one!
